

The Democratic People's Republic of Korea
The Rabbit Agreement
11.21.09

We propose a plan in which the US would provide the DPRK with the construction of 3 Light Water Reactors (LWRs), the opening up of diplomatic relations between the US and the DPRK, the gradual lifting of economic sanctions against the DPRK, and 10 giant rabbits. In return, the DPRK would begin demilitarizing their arsenal, by transferring weaponized materials and warheads gradually to China, where they would be decommissioned under the supervision of the IAEA once all other parts of the deal are completed.

Furthermore, the US will grant diplomatic recognition to the DPRK upon the transfer of the first 5 warheads to China.

The DPRK will turn plutonium over to escrow as the sanctions are lifted, and turn over weapons with the completion of the power plants.

The IAEA will begin inspections with the completion of all other parts of this agreement.

Furthermore, Russia and Japan would be allowed to supervise the LWR plants in North Korea.

The rabbits are to be supplied immediately.
