

Truthiness Express

Vol 5 2010

Iranian Explosion Turns Out to be Goat-Caused

A Crazy Iranian Nuclear Goat

In a hilarious turn of international events, Iranian investigators concluded that the explosion at Iran's nuclear reactor was not an attack by an enemy nation, but rather an unfortunate accident. Although the reactor was, according to Iran, "fully human-proof," the explosion was caused by a few lost goats wandering into the core, chewing essential wires, and generally making a mess.

"Who would have thought that our alarms couldn't detect goats," a senior security official at the reactor questioned. "This finding revolutionizes the security concerns of nuclear reactors. I can't imagine the potential havoc caused by trained Zionist goats if these clandestine goats managed to cause so much trouble."

PETA has made a statement accusing Iran of mistreating their goats.

"No civilized nation would allow goat herders to operate so near a nuclear reactor. The goats that made their way into the core must have suffered horribly. It is an atrocity that they are being blamed for this accident, rather than the reactor designers who failed to predict this obvious goat-tastrophe."

Iran probably knew about the real cause of this explosion for a while prior to the official announcement, but wanted to make sure the goats were indeed Iranian goats, and not a Zionist or American plot.

Indian admittance into the NPT a troubled road

India and France have agreed to a deal where France helps India get into the NPT, while India pledges to only trade nuclear materials with France for the next 15 years. Immediately following the announcement of this agreement, China chided France for using the NPT for economic gain and asked nations to look at "Article 9 Section 3" of the treaty. For those who do not know what that is, Truthiness Express has done extensive research on the treaty and found this:

3. This Treaty shall enter into force after its ratification by the States, the Governments of which are designated Depositaries of the Treaty, and forty other States signatory to this Treaty and the deposit of their instruments of ratification. For the purposes of this Treaty, a nuclear-weapon State is one which has manufactured and exploded a nuclear weapon or other nuclear explosive device prior to 1 January 1967.

We at the Truthiness Express assume that China was reminding the conference participants that India is simply ineligible for entrance into the NPT, because they did not explode a nuclear weapon prior to 1967. We at the Truthiness Express also feel that this was a "dick move" by China, and that China should stop being such a rule-nazi and just "get over it."

Pirates Epic Fail

On Friday Pirates commandeered a cargo ship in the territorial waters of Oman, threatening to halt shipping in and out of the Persian Gulf. The United States has successfully secured the Persian Gulf by deploying an aircraft carrier to patrol the coast. One of the pirates is quoted as saying, "we all new that the hype over The Pirates of the Caribbean was over, we just wanted to keep it going." The US has been arrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrguing with the UN general assembly over how to best maintain stability in the gulf.

China Wants Hu Jintao's Face on the Moon as Mao Rolls Over in Grave.

The great people's republic of China is planning to join DPRK in transforming the moon into a communist monument that will far outshadow the American imperial monument, mt rushmore. China plans to create an image of Hu Jintao next to the one of Kim Jong Il. This will serve as a beacon of hope to all the oppressed proletariat of the world, and will be awesome.

-The delegation from China

Kim Jong Il's Face Not Actually on the Moon

It appears that Kim Jong Il's face is not actually on the moon. The photograph was taken from Eliot 314, where a large sticker of Kim Jong Il's face was found on a window. This is a devastating blow to the legitimacy and technical skill of the DPRK.

DPRK Caught Like a Giant Rabbit in a Roasting Pan

Despite the recent discovery that Kim Jung Il's face has not, in fact, been carved into the moon using a nuclear weapon, the Democratic People's Republic of Korea [DPRK] has not been silent on the nuclear front. In a shocking exposé, the DPRK has been seen obtaining centrifuges and enriched Uranium from a clandestine network of nuclear suppliers. Photos were taken showing the culprits actually handling the centrifuges in question. There can be no misinterpretation of this. An anonymous source characterized the purchase as "an affront to human decency that they [the DPRK] would do such a thing at this conference."

Additionally, the DPRK also obtained explicitly detailed weapons designs at this same meeting. This obviates any defense the DPRK might try to make about peaceful applications of this technology. It remains to be seen what effect this will have on the remainder of the conference. It is difficult to imagine the US, or indeed any of the western powers, taking this with good cheer. This information about the DPRK was fearlessly uncovered, at great personal risk, by the intrepid reporters of this fine publication.

DPRK delegates pose with aluminum tubes.

Poll: Best and Worst Delegations

Best Delegation: India

Comments on India as Best Delegation:

"India sucks!" - Pakistan

"Eh. Whatever." - France

Worst Delegation: United States

Comments on United States as Worst Delegation:

"Yeah. Sounds about right." - Everyone except Israel

"The poll is rigged! (Reporters were unable to gain further comments, as Israel threw paper airplanes and empty coffee cups. So 2nd grade.)" - Israel